4. Changes and Revisions

- Major changes to the project will not be accepted after the agreement is signed unless mutually agreed upon. Major changes may cause delays and require a revised scope of work, potentially incurring additional costs.
- Minor changes can be requested, but they must be approved by the developer. If changes are not agreed upon, we will need to reevaluate the scope and hold further discussions.

It's essential that all change requests are communicated promptly. Excessive requests or unrealistic demands may result in project cancellation.

5. Professionalism and Communication

We expect mutual respect and professionalism throughout our collaboration. Any unprofessional behavior may result in project cancellation, without a refund of any payments made.

Good communication is key to a successful project. Please provide timely responses to queries and feedback. Delayed responses may lead to project delays and could incur additional charges.

6. Final Deliverables

You will receive snapshots of project progress following the initial payment. The full source code will only be delivered after the final payment is completed, unless you choose to pay the full amount upfront for early access.
